A Personal Message from Tiz Baskerville

Dear fellow National Convention Member,

2017 has been a tumultuous year for our country and the Party. Our Brexit journey is now well underway but we are having to navigate it with a minority government. Attention now needs, without delay, to turn to a renewed and refreshed target seats campaign and the selection of candidates. There is masses of work to be done and the Voluntary Party must be up to the challenge.

I have been privileged to have served two years representing the Voluntary Party as a Vice President of the National Convention. I am anxious to serve one final year and help the team prepare the ground and lay out the priorities for the next election. A thorough focus on social media is required and I am delighted to see that CCHQ recognise that. But we need to do more. We need to thoroughly rebuild and strengthen our grassroots teams.

And make no mistake, it is only strong teamwork that will win the day. I lay great emphasis on teamwork. I always have. It is vital at all levels of the Party, whether it be within the Cabinet, MP's offices', CCHQ or the Voluntary Party. We all have our key parts to play. We must all now pull together as a consolidated team.

Areas such as fundraising, professional support, by-elections, target seat campaigning, membership and postal vote recruitment do not just happen. We all know that. They have to be planned and masses of hard work needs to be done to ensure their success. I am determined to utilise my experience and enthusiasm and play my part in that vital venture. I can, however, only do it with your help. Please do support me when you come to vote. I pledge that I will give my all and will not fail you.

Sincerely,

Tiz Baskerville

PS: Teamwork is always the key to success. I am resolved to work as part of the senior team that helps deliver the foundations for our future success. I want to make my experience really work for the Party. I would greatly value your support. Thank you.

I am delighted to endorse Tiz Baskerville for the National Convention, once more. She is a fantastic motivator and has encouraged many people to support and work for the Party as well as always being prepared to lead from the front. Her organisation across the Eastern Region was superb and it would be great to see her continue at a national level.

The Rt Hon Elizabeth Truss MP,
Chief Secretary to the Treasury

I have known Tiz for some years since my selection as candidate for Mid Norfolk and have observed her total commitment to the Party; always working in the target seats to ensure the greatest chance of success. Tiz is always just round the corner during the by-elections and always going that extra mile.

Tiz is hugely respected in both the Eastern Region, and in the Party grassroots network nationally, and I believe she deserves and merits a place on the Convention team and on the Board. She will be an important asset in the task of rebuilding confidence after the recent election.

Chairman of the Conservative Policy Forum
